VALLE D'ORO PATCHI

COMPANY PROFILE

Founded in 1971 by Dina Rigon and her husband Elio Stevanin, in Bassano del Grappa/Nove, a land renowned for its long traditions of ceramic ware, la Valle d'Oro Patchi quickly flourished in the national territory, producing ceramic furniture components and conquering international markets in a small amount of time and reaching fame in Middle East, Arabian Peninsula, South Eastern Asia, Japan, China and former Soviet Republics. Dina's fine taste, imagination, experience and passion for her own job and Elio's craftsmanship, built over the years, along with their son's Alessandro and amazing team's support, allowed the company to reach these important goals.

PRODUCTION

From pillars to amphoras, from fountains to lamps, from umbrella stands to cachepots, our products are characterized by novelty and elegance of forms and ornaments, and most of all by the ultimate quest for quality. Using innovative raw materials, designing the most harmonious models (in collaborations with several architecture firms), always respecting our craftsmanship, we managed to create real pieces of art, inimitable by our competitors: as if this wasn't enough, each and every of our products is branded with a mark and a warranty certificate enabling customers to verify the origin of their products. Our countless collections are characterized by top-quality raw materials, such as aged gold leaf used in the "Bianco Opaco" collection, or even platinum and pure 24k gold, used in several other collections ("Bianco Oro Platino", "Havana Champagne", "Blu Oro Platino", etc..)

QUALITY

Each product, before reaching the market, must pass high quality internal standards. And if, regardless all this, our products weren't meeting our clients' standards, we would be ready to replace them, as our philosophy is -along with reaching the highest quality possible for our products- to make those who choose to own a "Valle d'Oro Patchi" work of art, completely satisfied.
